Did You Know?

In addition to the Articles of Interest Series, occasional articles entitled "Did You Know?" will be distributed. These articles feature a particular topic with a short explanation, along with source materials that provide detailed information.

Join the National District Attorneys Association's Women Prosecutors Section

The Women Prosecutors Section is open to all members of the NDAA. The Chair of the Committee is District Attorney Jackie Lacey of Los Angeles County, California.

The many benefits of the section include:

- A network of NDAA members committed to leadership, mentorship, and friendship by women prosecutors.
space
- Providing education and promoting increased opportunities for women seeking leadership positions within prosecution offices.
space
- Assisting NDAA in public engagement and education on issues of particular importance to women prosecutors.
space
- An annual banquet and speaker program.
space
- Writing white papers on various topics of importance to prosecutors. The National Domestic Violence Prosecution Best Practices Guide is a recent publication. Read
